Poshan Pakhwada

Malnutrition is a serious problem and about 14% of India's population is suffering from it. It causes health problems and leads to millions of deaths. With an aim to reduce malnutrition in India, “Poshan Pakhwada” is organized by the Ministry of Women and Child Development during 16-31 March.

About the Event

NSS-VGEC joined the “Poshan Abhiyaan” by organizing a small food distribution drive under this campaign. Nutritious food packets were distributed among workers and needy people by the Program Officers and volunteers.

Around 170 food packets with healthy food were distributed in the nearby areas. Some food packets were distributed among the security persons and sanitary staff of our college. The food packets consisted of some nutritious snacks and refreshing drinks.

On 23rd March, around 11 A.M, the entire NSS-VGEC team started distribution of food packets from college campus and then went off to the Motera market. By almost 2 P.M, distribution drive was ended at the campus.
