Continuing its trend of innovation, NSS this time introduced a concept of tree adoption and tree doctor. A student from NSS, Kevan Shah, acquired the title of Tree Doctor and promised to take care of trees and help out any tree in danger in the campus. Moreover, to protect trees from cattle and environmental damage, tree guards were affixed around the saplings. More than 150 students and faculties adopted trees of campus and promised to nurture them right from planting the sapling. On the whole, the event had a fantastic start with planting saplings like neem, tulsi and asopalav- the friends of environment.
